

Aleavit NATUSAL

COMPOSITION

Organic preparation based on Bibasic Ammonium Phosphate, Thiamine, Cellulose and Yeast Derivatives

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS

Appearance: beige-colored powder with yeasty odor.

ALEAVIT NATUSAL is a fermentation activator to be added to started alcoholic fermentation; it provides ammoniacal nitrogen, minerals, sterols, amino acids, peptides and vitamins in an assimilable form, promoting yeast metabolism.

ALEAVIT NATUSAL contributes to rapid and regular alcoholic fermentation, reducing the risks of fermentation arrest or slowdown in the presence of inhibitory factors or in cases of nutritional deficiency of starting musts.

APPLICATIONS

The use of ALEAVIT NATUSAL is recommended for obtaining regular alcoholic fermentations and for optimizing the fermentation course of yeasts.

Its use is recommended in cases of excessively clear musts and in all cases of stunted fermentations due to nutritional deficiencies or the presence of factors inhibiting yeast metabolism.

Fractional additions of ALEAVIT NATUSAL, at 1/3 and 2/3 of alcoholic fermentation, are recommended.

RECOMMENDED DOSAGES

20 to 30 g/hl, depending on requirements

10 g/hl of ALEAVIT NATUSAL provides about 15 mg/l of APA

30 g/hl of ALEAVIT NATUSAL brings the maximum limit of thiamine allowed in the EC (60 mg/hl) per single addition

MODE OF USE

Dissolve Aleavit NATUSAL in a little water and add it in pumping over to the must or wine to be fermented, taking care to properly homogenize the mass. Aerate conveniently as appropriate.
